Mattapoisett Schools Examine Beach Cycles

Just as there are signs of the changing seasons in everyday life — the barren trees, the dying plants — there are also features of marine life which change with the weather. In an effort to study these variations, students at Mattapoisett's Center School and Old Hammondtown School recently teamed up to take the first of four field trips to Shining Tides Beach to observe and compare marine shorelife in its different seasons and cycles. Three more trips are planned for the winter, spring and summer.

Ms. Muldoon's and Ms. Valetine's Grade 3 classes at Center School met with Ms. McQuillan's Grade 6 class from Old Hammondtown School at Shining Tides where they assisted them in taking air and water temperatures as well as testing the water salinity. The group also made an attempt at seining.

Shining Tides has been Center School's established outdoor education site since 1994 as a result of the school's participation in the National Science Foundation's grant-funded program, Seasons and Cycles. By establishing the site location, students from Kindergarten through Grade 3 are introduced to the basic biological concepts of life cycles, diversity, and variability of familiar organisms firsthand. Grade 6 students also teach their younger counterparts about the importance of marine life and the threat of pollution to the bay.

"We follow the Buzzards Bay curriculum, where we study point and non-point source pollution and biodiversity," said Karen McQuillan, a Sixth Grade science teacher at Old Hammondtown School. "We take abiotic measures — water temperature, air temperature, salinity and turbidity. We also study biomes, which are the six zones of the planet."

Students also learn about the ways in which seashore organisms maintain and continue life, and the ways in which they interact and depend on other living organisms and the non-living parts of the environment in which they live. The students build understandings through direct experiences with the living seashore world and in the process are introduced to more focused observations of seashore plants and animals, and through careful guidance make meaning of these observations. In fact, teachers have found that students in K through 3 express a natural curiosity and are continuously engaged in interacting with the living seashore world, trying to structure and understand it.

"We have them go on an Estuary Scavenger Hunt, where they have to identify evidence of sea life," said Deborah L. Valentine, a Third Grade teacher at Center School. "Then they discuss their findings and we chart the results."

Scientific observations were made carefully with students using their senses, simple magnifiers and

The bones of the whale were recently retrieved from New Bedford Harbor after the deceased mammal was placed there to clean the carcass. Now, noted skeletal mount specialist Andrew Konnerth will begin reconstructing the skeleton in the Whaling Museum's courtyard inside the confines of a greenhouse. Work was expected to proceed this week, and on October 12 the whale's skull will be moved to the greenhouse to begin work on the vertebrae. The public will be able to view the progress of the reconstruction, which is expected to take about five months. (Photo by Donna Burns/Whaling Museum).

measuring tools. Pictures, as well as words, were allowed in student record-keeping and communication among students encouraged. Even though scientific terms were not stressed, it was amazing to see how many students started to use them.

Revisiting the site at Shining Tides is always met with enthusiasm by parent chaperones as well as students no matter what the season, including winter.

Observations recorded at the site, and samples of living and non-living plants and animals gathered at the site, will allow students the opportunity to continue their explorations, categorizing and classifying back in their classrooms. Center School has four ongoing, natural, saltwater aquaria that are especially valuable in this area.

Sketching by the Sea Art Program Nurtures Novice Talent By Kenneth J. Souza

For the past year, the New Bedford Art Museum's "Sketching by the Sea" program has grown both in scope and popularity. Led by local art instructor Andy Anderson, the six sessions were held at various historic sites throughout the SouthCoast area and gave the chance for amateur artists to hone their skills while capturing a quintessential New England setting or landscape.

Beginning late last spring, the ongoing series drew anywhere from six to ten students per lesson and some key course sites included Mattapoisett's Ned's Point Lighthouse, the Mattapoisett Town Wharf, and New Bedford Harbor. The sessions cost $20 per pupil and participants are asked to pack a light picnic lunch. "We're still looking for different places in the area," said program participant Virginia Barry. "Maybe some private locations ... or other scenic settings. It would be really nice to have some classes in (New Bedford's) Historic District."

The last session of the current season will be held on Cuttyhunk Island on Saturday, October 17. The trip will be limited to 12 people and participants will meet at the ferry dock at 9:00 am. The class is open to both veterans and newcomers, professionals and amateurs alike. "Over half of the first class were beginners ... first-timers," said Ms. Barry. "But they keep coming, which is a good compliment to the teacher."

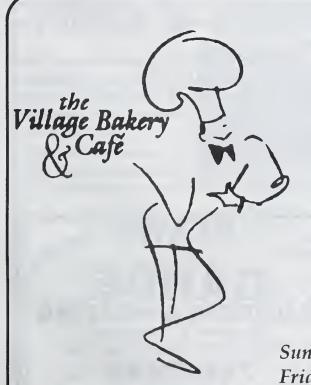

Those interested in participating in the Cuttyhunk Island class or further information on the "Sketching by the Sea" series should call the New Bedford Art Museum at 961-3072 or 961-3073.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

October 6, 1998

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, October 6 at 7:00 pm by Chairman pro tem Michele Bernier. Also present were Selectman Barry Denham and Secretary Melody Pacheco. Neither Selectman Paul Lambalot nor Executive Secretary Carol Adams were present for the meeting.

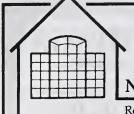

After unanimously approving the minutes of the September 29 meeting, the board signed vouchers, bills, licenses, and permits for the week. They also unanimously voted to renew their annual contract with the New Bedford Animal Rescue League through June, 1999.

At 7:05 pm the board met with Frances Cairns of Citizens for Open Government (COG) to make a final donation of blank videotapes which will be used to record weekly Selectmen's meeting to be kept on file at the town library.

"Although there was some resistance to recording meetings when it began, I think there is now widespread acceptance that it provides a valuable public service," Ms. Cairns said. "Following our donation of the television and VCR to the library last year, (COG) has continued to donate tapes and there are now (enough) to cover a full year's meetings. The tapes stored at the library can be reused, retaining a twelve-month record for reference purposes. The tapes were of sufficient quality to allow them to be re-recorded several times and the town now has a supply which will last for the next three to five years."

The board thanked Ms. Cairns and COG for their donation. Selectman Bernier added that they can still use some volunteers to assist in the videotaping of weekly committee meetings. "Now is the time to get involved and use the new equipment," Selectman Bernier said, referring to the future purchase of permanent cameras for the Town Hall. Those interested in assisting with the

"Our proximity to the ocean combines with the harsh winter road conditions to destroy our cars' finishes and rot away the exteriors at an incredible rate. Speaking for myself, I am extremely disappointed when the Town of Mattapoisett helps accelerate this process by covering our side streets with a disgusting mixture of oil and gravel.

techniques, I wonder how many residents have thought this one through. Is it worth the pennies per year we are saving on property taxes when compared to the hundreds of dollars we will eventually spend to repair our vehicles? I think we would be better off to fix the roadways once and for all, rather than using this apparent stopgap measure every three years."

Selectman Denham explained that the substance used is like a tar which seals the road surface and keeps the water from draining down into the asphalt. "This will allow roads to last five to seven years longer with the seal," he said. "It takes a certain amount of traffic and curing from the weather to allow the road surface to settle."

In response to other complaints received on this issue, Selectman Denham noted that the Highway Surveyor is an elected official, and the Board of Selectmen doesn't have any influence over his budget and how he spends it. "Everyone should realize that the Highway Surveyor has control over his budget as an elected official," he said. "He spends it as he sees fit."

On a similar note, Selectman Denham wanted to remind parents that there is a lot of construction going on throughout town, and children should not be allowed to go near or play at construction sites. "Contractors try to keep the sites as safe as we can, but children should not be near construction sites, especially when there's no one there," he said.

Ms. Pacheco reminded everyone that due to the Columbus Day holiday on Monday, October 12, the Mattapoisett Town Hall would be closed all day. There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:22 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

October 5, 1998

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, October 5 at 7:06 pm by Chairman Richard D. Cutler. Also present were Selectman Naida L. Parker, Selectman Patricia Ryan, and Executive Secretary James Huntoon.

After approving the minutes of the September 21 meeting (with some changes made by Selectman Parker) and unanimously approving the minutes of the September 24 meeting, the board reviewed the following incoming correspondence:

• Letter from Superintendent/Director David J. Ferreira at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School informing the board that the school's design students are planning to draw a layout of the Rochester Town Hall as a project for their CAD/CAM computer class. This will be a benefit to both the students and the town in planning future renovations.

• Request from Michael J. Vieira to participate in the Rochester Police "Ride-Along" Program as part of his Criminal Justice studies at Bristol Community College. Mr. Vieira would like to ride with Officer Bert Gleason during one of his shifts to learn more about the daily business of police work. The board had no objections to the request, by Chairman Cutler was concerned about potential liability issues. "What kind of liability does this place on the town?" he asked. The board agreed, however, to grant the request provided there are no potential problems with liability on the town's behalf.

Under the Executive Secretary's report, Mr. Huntoon noted that the board needs to appoint someone as an alternate representative to the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD). Jeff Eldridge is the town's representative, and former Executive Secretary Russell Dean was the alternate. Mr. Huntoon suggested appointing John Hall, as he has expressed interest and often attends SRPEDD meetings. With that, the board unanimously voted to appoint Mr. Hall as their alternate representative to SRPEDD.

Mr. Huntoon informed the board that Police Chief Walter Denham received a request for a $25 contribution to the county Sheriff's Office for their centralized procurement operations. This money would be used for the processing of paperwork. The board unanimously voted to allow Chief Denham to take this contribution out of his existing budget.

In related news, Mr. Huntoon reported that most of the repair and renovation work at the Police Station trailer had been completed, and they only needed to replace the floor now at an estimated cost of $1,500. They are still seeking contractor proposals for this project.

The board also unanimously voted to appoint Selectman Ryan as the town's permanent representative on the ORR Building Committee.

At 7:30 pm the board opened a Dog Hearing to consider a complaint filed by James and Holly Vogel against Harold "Buzz" and Cathy Mendoza of Hiller Road due to incessant barking from the ten hound dogs kept on their property. At the Board of Selectmen's request and as per Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 140, Section 157, the hearing was presided over by Public Prosecutor Harry Schmitt, who asked that all persons giving testimony during the hearing be sworn in.

Mr. and Ms. Vogel introduced Attorney Richard Burke, who would be representing them during the hearing, and Mr. and Ms. Mendoza said they would be representing themselves.

Mr. Schmitt said he would first hear testimony from the plaintiffs (the Vogels) and then from the defendants (the Mendozas). He first questioned Mr. Vogel about the complaint his wife initially filed with the Board of Selectmen. Mr. Vogel said that for the tenure of their residency in Rochester — about three years — they've been subjected to incessant barking from the Mendoza's dogs adjacent to their property. "This is the sixth time we've come before this board ... it's an ongoing problem and we have absolutely no peace in our home," Mr. Vogel said. "The dogs bark on and off all day long ... they've barked non-stop for an entire days, and my wife has had to leave at times because it's unbearable."

Mr. Vogel explained that his wife has a mild heart condition which requires her to rest for certain periods during the day. But she can seldom take afternoon naps due to the dogs' barking. "We're unable to live in peace in our own home," Mr. Vogel said. He also had a tape recording he made of the dogs barking which he played for the board.

When questioned about her health problems, Ms. Vogel confirmed that she is unable to nap during the day. "I try to doze off, and then they start barking again," she said. "I'm disturbed at least four out of five days a week when the dogs are on the premises."

Several other neighbors also testified that the Mendoza's dogs have disturbed them.

"When I'm out in the back yard, I can hear the dogs barking at night," agreed Bob Magee.

"I usually get home at midnight, and on more than one occasion I hear the dogs and they don't let up ... sometimes it goes on all night," said David Pierson.

"I'm retired, so I hear the dogs bark all day long," said James Hartshorn. "They don't bother me at night, they disturb me mostly during the day. I'm the one that originated the petition against the Mendozas."

When questioned, Cathy Mendoza explained that she and her husband own ten large hunting dogs which they keep as a hobby and will hopefully lead to a commercial venture in the future. "Right now, it's just on a small scale," Ms. Mendoza said. "The dogs are not used to living next to other animals. Prior to the Vogels' moving in, we never had a problem — no complaints. We've built a new kennel to help muffle the sound ... we even board the dogs at Look's Kennel while my husband is away. Between putting the kennel in and boarding costs, we've spent maybe $7,000 to date."

"This has been an ongoing problem for the last two years," agreed Mr. Mendoza. "These dogs are locked in and they don't bark at night. For the last few months, those dogs are hardly at my home ... they've been more at (Look's Kennel) and my house in Maine than here in Rochester. I've spent $70 a day to board 10 dogs so Ms. Vogel can sleep — it's crazy!"

Mr. Mendoza maintained that his dogs are barking at the animals on the Vogel property. "The only neighbors to complain are the Vogels," he said. "I've had no other neighbor on that street make an outright complaint against my dogs."

IF YOU ARE SERIOUS ABOUT SELLING

When listing your home with our agency, there are a variety of arrangements you can make. But if you are seriously intent on selling your home within a reasonable time and at the price you are asking, it would pay to consider making an "exclusive right to sell" agreement.

With this arrangement, the listing agency is entitled to a commission if the house is sold during the listing period. There is no added competition of the homeowner selling the house on his own. If the house is sold by another participating broker, the commission is split.

Under these conditions, our agency will have the added incentive and protection to go all-out in heavily advertising your house and showing it to prospects and will not be afraid of bringing it to the attention of other agencies who may have qualified prospects. This gives you the advantage of having several agencies make a determined effort to sell your home.

"Those dogs are out at night and I've had no complaints from my neighbors," said Janice Look of Look's Kennel, where the Mendozas board the dogs. "They don't bark at my 13 (other) dogs ... with the stories I'm hearing, I don't think we're talking about the same dogs."

"I live right next door to the Mendozas and I'm a friend to both parties," said Bill Towers. "Going back about one-and-a-half, maybe two years ago, the dogs were barking for at least two hours. I talked to Mr. Mendoza about it, and since that time'I haven't had a problem. I'm just here to keep things on an even keel. I feel there's something radically wrong here. This summer we had outdoor parties, and we never heard a thing. The dogs do occasionally bark, but I haven't heard them at all since maybe Labor Day."

After further testimony and before closing the hearing, Attorney Burke wished to make a statement on his clients' behalf. "The question before you is: are these dogs barking? Not what's causing them, but whether they are a nuisance or not," he said. "It appears that boarding these dogs elsewhere is the only solution."

Chairman Cutler agreed that their final decision will be based solely on Massachusetts General Laws, which govern whether the excessive barking is causing a nuisance in the neighborhood. The board recessed for five minutes to consider their decision.

Upon reconvening at 9:00 pm, Chairman Cutler said he agreed that the problem is an annoyance, but is it a nuisance under the law?

"I feel it's an annoyance, but not a nuisance," Selectman Ryan said. "Some effort has been made to rectify the problem, but I'm reluctant to order the removal of the dogs."

"I understand your willingness to have some other solution," Chairman Cutler said. "But I don't what that might be."

Selectman Parker agreed with Selectman Ryan, noting that she didn't feel any evidence presented that night was cause to have the dogs removed from the property.

With that, Selectman Ryan moved to have the complaint dismissed because there wasn't sufficient evidence presented to deem their barking a "nuisance." The motion was passed 2-to-1, with Selectman Cutler in sole opposition.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they voted to adjourn for the evening.

VOMITING CATS

I have 2 cats. Both have vomited in the house a few times a week since I have owned them. The 5 year old female pigs out. She eats her dry cat food really fast and then vomits it about 5 minutes later. We try feeding her small, frequent meals and that seems to help but it is labor intensive. Do you have any thoughts?

Cats that eat their food very rapidly and then vomit need to have their food intake slowed down. Try covering the food with 2-4 golf bals. The cat will have to nudge the balls out of the way to get a mouhful and this will slow down their eating. Changing from dry to canned food may also help but will make more of a mess if it doesn't stay down.

My other cat has always vomited 3-4 times a week. She vomits food sometimes and just yellow frothy bile at others. Occasionally there is a clump of hair in the vomit. She seems healthy and happy otherwise. What can I do to help her? This may be more difficult to manage. Cats with this pattern of vomiting may have a number of problems. Two of the more common are bacterial infection in the stomach caused by Helicobacter felis and a condition called inflammatory bowel disease. Try changing your cats diet to a different kind of food. Often the use of a premium cat food will help. If 2-3 diet changes over a couple of months is not helpful, discuss the problem with your veterinarian.

communities. The workshop will end at 3:00 pm and not 5:00 pm as previously announced.

According to Chairman Cole, "We sincerely hope that citizens and leaders from throughout the town will plan to spend Saturday October 17 working with us at the Junior High School. However, I want to stress that folks are welcome to drop in on the workshop whenever they are able and may leave early if they must. We hope to engage several hundred participants throughout the day—it should be a lot of fun and extremely rewarding for those who participate."

The nine member Master Plan Committee, under the jurisdiction of the Mattapoisett Planning Board has entered Phase Two, "Draft Plan Development," and intends to deliver a comprehensive, community-based Master Plan to the Planning Board for their approval and adoption before the end of June 1999.

right of way. Most of its members walked and inspected the full length of the road. The committee or a representative met with and discussed the project with the town's Executive Secretary, Chief of Police, and Superintendent of Public Works. Individual members volunteered many hours to prepare schematic plans for the road that incorporated into the design a pathway suitable for pedestrians, children on bicycles, and other forms of light recreation. Also, the use of multi-purpose pathways was discussed with local residents and the general public on many occasions, and incorporated their comments where feasible.

After careful consideration of the comments of those who made known their views on the pathway, the committee has drafted a plan such that, when Creek Road is redesigned and reconstructed, the following will be addressed and incorporated into the plan for the forty-foot wide town-owned right of way:

- 1. Two motor vehicle travel lanes;
- 2. A pathway generally eight feet in width suitable for pedestrians and light recreational use on the south side of the motor vehicle lanes;
- 3. A suitable vegetative buffer between the road and the pathway;
- 4. The motor vehicle lanes and the pathway have been integrated into the private and public landscaping to the greatest degree particable;
- 5. For safety, the separation between the travel lanes and the pathway are as great as possible at all

Terror in Rochester Woods

After a two-year absence, the popular Chamber of Horrors, Inc. from Fairhaven is back ... only this time they've got "Terror in the Woods," the latest version of original Halloween horror. The Chamber of Horrors, Inc., formerly the producers of the haunted house on West Island in Fairhaven, invites you to take a walk with them through the haunted woods at Bowen Lane Stables on Bowen Lane in Rochester. Walks through the creature-infested forest will be ongoing through the evening. If you're afraid of the dark (and it will be dark), glownecklaces will be on sale for the young, the weak, or the timid. And if you are really apprehensive about entering the woods, pony rides and refreshments will also be available.

Join the Chamber of Horrors, Inc. for the same, original, horrific fun you haven't seen since 1995. The frightful walks will be held on Saturday, October 24 from 6:30 to 11:00 pm, and Sunday, October 25 from 6:00 to 10:00 pm. As usual, the ticket booth will close 15 minutes earlier. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for children. Follow the flying skulls from exit 19B off Route 195 East to New Bedford Road. Take a right onto New Bedford Road and then a left on Vaughn Hill Road to Bowen Lane.

The Chamber of Horrors, Inc. continues to provide the community with a safe and fun Halloween activity. For more information or to volunteer, please call 979-1257.

Schools will sponsor a FREE Hypnotherapy Program for smokers wishing to quit. The two-hour workshop is sponsored by the Acushnet Public Schools/Health Services as a recipient of the Massachusetts Health Protection Grants. Marcia Richards, Certified Hypnotherapist, will conduct the two-hour program which will start at 6:30 pm.

Marcia's workshop includes behavior modification and hypnosis with guided imagery. Ms. Richards, an ex-smoker herself, provides participants with activities which help them identify why they smoke. Once they understand why they smoke, then she provides them with strategies for developing new habits to take the place of common smoking habits.

During the second half of the workshop, she teaches participants to practice progressive relaxation so that they will utilize their training on a daily basis; and learn to relax deeper and quicker each time. She also teaches the group self-hypnosis techniques.

It is the hope of the Acushnet Public Schools that many smokers who reside in Acushnet will take advantage of this FREE program. By participating in this program in Acushnet, smokers will not only improve their own health but also the health of their families by protecting them from the dangerous effects of exposure to secondhand smoke.

Those who participate in the program on October 15 will also have an opportunity to register for a five-session quit-smoking support program called "Independence from Tobacco," sponsored by the PACT Program.

For registration for the FREE Hypnotherapy Program, please call Judith Coykendall, Program Director of the PACT Program, at 748-3531. The PACT Program serves the Boards of Health of Acushnet, Lakeville, Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester.

Parent Course in Marion

A popular six-week course for parents and others who work with children is again being offered. "How To Talk So Kids Will Listen and Listen So Kids Will Talk" has been offered several times over the past two years. Participants have reported that the information is very practical and usable. The adults try out strategies learned and then have an opportunity to discuss the results with the next class. One participant said: "This should be a required course for parents."

The primary aim of the Tri-County Music Association over the years is to make live performances of concert band music available to the community and give musicans a chance to share their talents. A secondary aim has been to encourage young people to pursue careers in music education or as instrumentalists by providing them the opportunity to perform and by awarding scholarships to promising students. Over the years more than 75 students have received such awards for college study.

Season tickets and individual concert tickets are available at the Symphony Music Shop in North Dartmouth, at Shawmut Diner in New Bedford, and at The Bookstall in Marion. Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Individual concert tickets are $10 and the three council, through their fund-raising efforts, is providing annual scholarships to three students in the ORR School District.

In the past several years they have presented workshops on Inclusion, the Team Evaluation Process and the Individual Education Plan, specific learning problems such as Attention Deficit Disorder, a panel of local teachers and therapists who informed them of the many services available in the school system, and most recently a workshop on anticipated changes in Chapter 766 by a staff attorney from the Massachusetts Advocacy Center in Boston. Changes in Chapter 766 by the state legislature are of concern to many parents. Currently, a group of parents is involved in an effort to lobby state representatives on proposed changes in the legislation.

The ORR Special Education Parent Advisory Council encourages all parents to join their efforts to share information, offer resources, and work to provide the best possible educational experience for all of our children. Please come to the workshops this year — the dates, topics, and times are listed below. Participants who attend two or more sessions receive PDP's (Professional Development Points).

The regular meetings for the 1998-1999 school year of the ORR and Union 55 School District Special Parent Advisory Council (PAC) are:

- Wednesday, November 18 "Providing Therapy from a Clinical Perspective";
- Wednesday, January 20 "Recreational Activities for Children with Disabilities";
- Wednesday, March 24 "Everything You Need to Know About TEAM Meetings";
- Wednesday, May 19 Speaker (topic to be announced).

ROB GONSALVES local@wanderer.com

■ Antz. With the voices of Woody Allen, Sharon Stone, and Sylvester Stallone. Directed by Eric Darnell and Tim Johnson. Running time: 83 minutes. MPAA rating: PG. At Cinema 140 in New Bedford.

Antz isn't anything great, or even especially memorable, but it's a reasonable afternoon diversion — which is its chief charm. The fledgling studio DreamWorks has dabbled in kiddie fare before (MouseHunt, Small Soldiers), but this is its first feature-length foray into animation. Not only that, it's the first fully computer-animated 'toon since Disney/Pixar's Toy Story. All things considered, I prefer Antz. It has no sappy show tunes (the closest it comes is a montage set to "I Can See Clearly Now"), a minimum of gush, and a surplus of anti-establishment wit. And it doesn't overwhelm you or try too hard; it's as light and brisk as a spring breeze.

Disney is big on "Be yourself" as a theme, but Antz advances a more relevant message: "Think for yourself." The movie unfolds within a teeming ant colony, divided into soldiers and workers — it's a vision of a society as a military-industrial complex that would keep Oliver Stone ranting for years. We meet one worker ant, Z (voice by Woody Allen), who's tired of his predetermined role in life. He's sure there has to be something more, and he hears intriguing things about a far-off idyll called Insectopia. He finds his soulmate in the Queen Ant's daughter Princess Bala (Sharon Stone), who's sick of her life — she's to be married to the brutish General Mandible (Gene Hackman), a warmonger with vaguely genocidal plans.

To adults, there's nothing terribly original in the plot (which follows Z and Bala to Insectopia and their struggle against Mandible), though it's fair to say that it's new to newcomers — i.e., kids. Will children be mystified by the often-sophisticated dialogue (by Todd Alcott, Chris Weitz and Paul Weitz)? Possibly, but there's more than enough else to hold their interest, including a couple of set pieces (one involving a pair of giant sneakered feet, another concerning a drop of water) that define "ingenuity." At its best, Antz appeals to your daydreams when you were a kid and you wondered about the daily physical hassles of an ant. (Well, I did, anyway.)

Antz takes place in an enclosed computer-generated world, like Toy

Story, yet I didn't feel cramped and confined in this ant world, as I did in the hermetic, almost-real-but-not-quite universe of Buzz and Woody. Antz is actually closer to James and the Giant Peach, and the visuals, ironically enough, feel large-scale. When we pull back, what seems like miles of ant tunnels is really only inches in diameter. I would've liked to see a little more interaction between ants and humans - maybe a scene with millions of frenzied soldiers waging war on a candy bar on the sidewalk, or a decree from General Mandible that all deserters will be sent to the ant farm. Maybe I've just inadvertently told you two ideas they're saving for the sequel.

Adults will get a kick out of the voices, too. Woody successfully reinvents himself in the sort of uncomplicated revenge-of-the-nerd role he hasn't enjoyed in a while; Sharon Stone displays the humor you always find in her interviews but rarely in her movies; Jennifer Lopez's fans will find further proof that she sounds as alluring as she looks; Sylvester Stallone and (briefly) Danny Glover are amusing as soldier ants; Gene Hackman reworks several of his rabid military bad-guys.

ASTINGS

Then there's Christopher Walken, whose character—Mandible's secondin-command Cutter — even looks like him. This is Walken's second go-round in a DreamWorks kiddie movie (he also brightened MouseHunt), and he's even funnier in these movies than he is in his usual black-clad, vampirefrom-the-planet-of-bad-hair roles. Everywhere else, he's typecast, hired for his voice and somber visage; DreamWorks may have found the perfect home for this often-imitated, never-duplicated actor, who clearly has a ball playing wacky roles no one else will let him do. And so far, the studio is batting three for three with their kiddie division, hiring hipster actors like Walken and Tommy Lee Jones and letting them play. Whereas Toy Story employed who? Tom Hanks and Tim Allen. I rest my case.

This Week's Horoscope

Weekly Tip: The sun's going into Libra, causing a shift from the left to the right areas of the brain. In other words, you're going from practical to creative.

Aries (March 21-April 19), You may feel like you're losing control. That's just the sucking sound the sun makes when it goes into Libra.

Taurus (April 20-May 20), Be careful. Paperwork must be filled out absolutely perfectly. There's zero tolerance for errors.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). Your household is full of interesting conversations. You get old issues resolved. and romance is the natural result.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Learn something you need to resolve a family matter, by asking close relatives for advice. A loved one needs all your attention.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). You should remember what you learn, so study material that will be useful. You may have to apply it soon to get what you want in a domestic dispute.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You're lucky in games. You learn more ways to make and save money. This is information you can put to work right

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're looking good but you're under pressure. Finish up old business quickly. You have more important things to do soon.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Everything you've been procrastinating about comes due. The good news is that finishing it makes you take off like a rocket.

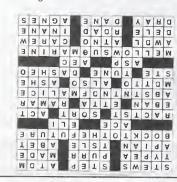

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You're very popular and getting even more so. Make time by rearranging your business schedule to support your social life.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Pay attention to details, just in case an older person forgets one. You'll look good if you can offer the suggestion that works Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The farther away you look, the more likely you are to find what you're seeking.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Your focus is shifting to planning your future. Confer with your mate to make sure you're headed in the same direction.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: You're issued a poetic license this year. You're lots more eloquent than usual, so get thoughts down on рарег.

Preschool and Child Care Costs

If it seems like most of the money that you earn as a working parent is going right back out again to pay for preschool and child care, Community Partnerships for Children may be able to offer some help. Through this grant program from the Massachusetts Department of Education, working families are offered subsidies based on a sliding scale. The Early Childhood Office for the Old Rochester Regional School District manages this program for residents of Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester who earn state median income or less ($54,000 for a family of four).
